1. A new airfield is under construction between Pardubice and Havlickuv Brod. The rail-road line between those two cities has been rerouted so that the area between Pardubice and the previous first stop after Pardubice is bypassed. In this area an old airfield is being remodeled and a new spur line has been routed to it. Construction of new airfield facilities alongside the old airfield is underway.
2. An airfield is under construction between Veltrusy (N 50-16, E 14-20) and Prague on the right side of the road proceeding in the direction from Veltrusy to Prague. Work has been under way for three years. The construction is still incomplete; underground facilities are to be included.
